INTERACTIONS WITH CHILDREN, FAMILIES & STAFF POLICY

The Early Years Learning Framework (EYLF) and My Time, Our Place identifies secure, respectful, and reciprocal relationships with children as one of the principles that underpin practice. Within childhood communities many different relationships are negotiated with and between children, educators, and families. The way in which these relationships are established and maintained, and the way in which they remain visible impacts on how the childhood community functions as a whole. Relationships directly affect how children form their own identity, whether or not they feel safe and supported, and ultimately, their sense of belonging.

PURPOSE

We aim to build positive and respectful relationships with children, families, and educators through collaboration and interactions, which is reflective of our Service philosophy and the Early Years Learning Framework. Educators will encourage positive relationships between children and their peers as well as with educators and families at the Service, ensuring children feel safe and supported, including when using digital technologies and online environments. We believe that children's safety, rights, and best interests are the paramount consideration for all Service operations, decisions and functions.

SCOPE

This policy applies to children, families, staff, management, and visitors of the Service.

IMPLEMENTATION

Under the Education and Care Services National Regulations, the approved provider must ensure that policies and procedures are in place for interactions with children (Regulation 168) and take reasonable steps to ensure those policies and procedures are followed.

In order to build and maintain positive and respectful relationships with children, families and educators the Langwarrin Community Centre will adhere to our statement of philosophy and the ACA Code of Ethics. We aim to provide a child safe culture where our values and practices that guide the attitudes and behaviour of all staff are guided by the implementation of the Child Safe Standards and related National Principles for Child Safe Organisations.

Interactions with Children

Children need positive relationships and interactions with educators that are trusting and responsive to their individual needs. Through these experiences and interactions children will develop a positive understanding of themselves and feel a sense of belonging. We promote a respectful, child safe culture where children's concerns are always responded to, and children feel empowered to participate in decisions and provide feedback to educators and staff.

Our Service maintains a zero-tolerance approach to inappropriate conduct towards children. All interactions must protect each child's dignity, emotional wellbeing and safety. Our Service upholds a strong reporting culture to safeguard children in our care. All educators and staff play a vital role in protecting children from harm by responding to and reporting any incidents, disclosures or suspicions of abuse, harm, neglect or ill-treatment.

The Approved Provider/Nominated Supervisor/Management will:

- ensure obligations under the Education and Care Services National Law and National Regulations are met
- provide new employees, students and volunteers with a copy of this policy and associated procedure as part of their induction and are advised on how and where the policy can be accessed
- ensure copies of this policy is readily accessible and available for inspection
- ensure that the Safe Use of Digital Technologies and Online Environments Policy and procedure are considered when interactions with children include digital technologies and online environments
- ensure all staff, educators, volunteers and students are aware of and adhere to legislative requirements relating to taking images or video of children when providing education and care
- create a welcoming and relaxed atmosphere in which children experience equitable, friendly and genuine interactions with all educators
- ensure environments are created to ensure children feel safe, valued, understood and supported
- ensure the service complies with minimum educator to child ratio and qualification requirements
- ensure all educators and staff have undertaken mandatory National Child Safety Training for the Early Childhood Education and Care Sector
- ensure all educators and staff are aware of the procedure of reporting allegations of abuse, neglect, harm or ill-treatment
- ensure that no child is subjected to any form of inappropriate conduct including conduct that is threatening, intimidating, humiliating, degrading, hostile or otherwise inappropriate in the circumstances (S.166A NSW)
- ensure that any allegation, concern or suspicion that a child has been subjected to inappropriate conduct is responded to immediately and reported to the regulatory authority, within 24 hours, with mandatory notifications made to other relevant authorities as required
- conduct a review of practices following an incident involving inappropriate conduct at the Service, including an assessment of areas for improvement

- promote a culture where inappropriate conduct is not tolerated and where educators and staff feel safe to report concerns
- ensure all educators, staff and volunteers understand their obligations as mandatory reporters and are trained to recognise, prevent and respond to inappropriate conduct
- ensure that no child is subjected to any form of corporal punishment or any discipline that is unreasonable or inappropriate in the circumstances (S. 166 National Law)
- support educators to use trauma-informed practices to recognise and respond to the emotional needs of children (see Incident, Injury, Trauma and Illness Policy)
- take reasonable steps to ensure children have opportunities to interact and develop respectful and positive relationships with each other and with staff members and volunteers of the Service
- have regard to the size and composition of groups of children, the developmental needs of each child, cultural and linguistic diversity and the staffing arrangements required to support positive relationships and effective supervision.

EDUCATORS WILL:

- ensure their interactions with children are always respectful, safe, supportive and appropriate to each child's developmental needs, culture, identity and circumstances
- refrain from any behaviour that may be considered inappropriate conduct, including behaviour that is threatening, intimidating, humiliating, degrading, hostile or otherwise inappropriate
- remain aware of the power imbalance inherent in child-adult relationships and avoid behaviour that could misuse or exploit that power
- immediately report any behaviour by another person that may constitute inappropriate conduct towards a child to the nominated supervisor/approved provider and regulatory authority
- monitor and maintain staff to child ratios to ensure adequate supervision of children
- have a sound understanding of their duty of care and responsibilities in ensuring children are within a child safe environment at all times
- strictly adhere to legislative requirements relating to taking images or video of children when providing education and care
- role-model appropriate language and behaviour
- support and encourage children to be aware of their own feelings as well as the feelings of others
- encourage children to treat all other children with respect
- provide children with the opportunity to explore their dispositions for learning by expressing themselves and their opinions
- consider group size and composition when planning activities, intentionally creating groupings that support positive relationships, inclusion and children's developmental needs

- ensure children are aware of how to raise concerns or provide feedback – child focused complaint handling system-
- respond or report to children about how their feedback has been acted upon
- assist the children to build resilience and self-assurance through positive interactions
- guide children's behaviour positively to promote safe, positive play and children's agency
- respect the rights, dignity and agency of children (United Nations Convention on the Rights of the Child)
- provide appropriate supervision so children feel safe in their interactions with other children
- speak to children in a positive manner at all times, promoting respect, tolerance and empathy, including the use of non-verbal cues and communication
- engage in meaningful, open interactions that support the acquisition of skills for life and learning of children
- respect each child's uniqueness, be attuned to, and respond sensitively and appropriately to children's efforts to communicate and use the child's own language, communication styles, and culture to enhance interactions
- listen to children and take them seriously; support and encourage children to use appropriate language in their interactions with adults and peers. Educators will extend upon children's interests and ideas through questions and discussions, supported and made visible in observations, reflections, and programming
- understand their mandatory reporting requirements and respond to any incident, disclosure or suspicion of child abuse, harm, neglect or ill-treatment they witness or suspect immediately by notifying the approved provider and relevant authorities
- communicate with children by getting down to their level, using eye contact, and showing respect to the child whilst engaging in and promoting effective communication
- show empathy to children
- ensure that the values, beliefs, and cultural practices of the child and family are considered and respected (Reg. 155)
- ensure that no child is ever isolated for any reason other than illness, accident or pre-arranged appointment with parental consent. During this time, they will be under adult supervision.
- regularly reflect on their relationships and interactions with children and how these can be improved to benefit each child
- facilitate children's individual development extending upon their strengths, interests and abilities

- document decisions where group size/composition required changes to supervision of program (e.g. temporary changes to groupings, additional staff, or adapted activities) and notify families where appropriate.

Interactions Between Management, Educators and Families

Effective communication is key to developing and maintaining positive interactions and relationships with others and helps to build trusting and respectful partnerships with families. Educators use positive and open communication with families and siblings in order to create a responsive and inclusive environment for children, staff and families. Interactions with families help to inform educators' knowledge of each child's distinctive interests, skills cultures and abilities. This helps to build a positive experience and a safe learning environment that encourages children to expand their knowledge and understandings.

Management and educators will ensure:

- all families are treated equitably without bias or judgement, recognising that each family is unique
- families are provided with information and resources in their first language
- families are asked to identify a preferred method of regular communication with the Service (this may include utilising a translator service)
- families and children are greeted upon arrival in a respectful manner
- they learn the names of family members and use these names when they greet them
- two-way communication is established through leading by example and asking questions and a willingness to offer information about ourselves
- common terminology (not jargon) is used when talking to parents regarding their child's development
- privacy and confidentiality are respected at all times
- information about another child or family information is never discussed with a parent or visitor
- they remain sensitive to cultural differences amongst families, and encourage families to share cultural aspects with the children and educators at the service
- the advice and opinion from other professional experts are requested, with parental permission, to assist educators develop and implement strategies to support the inclusion of children with additional needs
- they seek additional resources and professional support for families through a range of organisations such as KU Inclusion Support, Area Health and other specific health professional networks
- verbal communication is always open, respectful and honest
- families are provided with up-to-date service information and notices through Daily Reports, newsletters, communal notice boards, emails, Facebook and sign-in sheets

- they regularly reflect on parent input into the program and make changes where necessary that will best benefit the service and children
- connections between families is promoted and enhanced through inviting families to participate in routines and events at the service
- families are aware of our complaint handling process- (Dealing with Complaints Policy - Family)
- any bribe or gift received by a family that may influence or appear to influence a decision or action is to be declined and reported to management.

Interactions with Staff and Educators

The Service recognises that the way educators interact with each other has an effect on the interactions they have with children and families. Educators working within the Langwarrin Community Centre are required to demonstrate mutual respect towards each other and value the contributions made by each educator. This enables the Centre to maintain positive relationships and model the type of communication they want children to develop.

To maintain professionalism at all times, Educators will:

- engage in professional communication in order to create an effective work environment and to build a positive relationship with educators, children and families. Communication amongst colleagues creates a positive atmosphere and a professional image for families. Communication between staff and families ensures that important information is being passed on consistently
- champion a child safe culture through their attitudes, behaviours and actions
- collaborate together as a team sharing room roles and responsibilities through the use of a roster where necessary
- be respectful when listening to each other's point of view and ideas
- maintain effective communication to ensure that teamwork occurs
- use staff meetings to communicate their professional reflections and ideas for continuous improvement as a team
